Health Service For Glades Available At Local Hospitals

Ernest H. Fiedler Succeeds O. Dry At Superintendent At Belle Glade Hospital

A new general superintendent is now in charge of the Belle Glade Hospital, as Ernest H. Fiedler, has succeeded L. O. Dry, in that administrative position. Mr. Fiedler came here from Punta Gorda, where for several years past he has held a similar position with the hospital there.

Mr. Fiedler states that he is well pleased with his new work here, and is most proud to be the head of such a fine hospital as exists here in Belle Glade. That it will be his intent to still make it a more outstanding institution as new services can be introduced for the benefit of the hospital patrons. Mr. Dry will continue on as an advisor until he gets his orders of assignment for the Army.

Mr. Dry states that his retirement here is regretful to him, as he has had pleasant relations at the hospital and with the citizens of the Glades, and especially liked the fishing facilities so handy.

Mr. Dry states that the citizens of the Glades are fortunate that the Hospital has been able to get a connection with the Maternity and Child Welfare Department, with its excellent program for public service. Since the 23rd, of February, when the service became effective here, there have been 65 births at the hospital, 19 white and 46 colored, the greatest majority of which were delivered the MOH program. Under this plan the hospital is able to have a full time obstetrician, and a part time pediatrician, the former being Dr. H. H. Ring and the latter Dr. Levinson, formerly connected with the hospital at West Palm Beach. The alternate Thursday these men are on duty in Belle Glade and the Pahokee Hospitals for consultation.

Under the Social Service Department, persons who may desire information may consult Mrs. Mary at the Belle Glade Hospital, phone 57, or Mrs. Larimore, at Pahokee, phone 185. Their aid territory extends from the Glades to the Glades lake to Lakeport. If after interviews, persons are found eligible, they will be certified and sent to the Glades Hospital for treatment or medical care. All such assignments must be made by a Public Health Official, the agent of the State at Camp Osceola and for the colored at Camp Oklawaha.

The Palm Beach Crippled Children's Clinic has been working with the Belle Glade Hospital, and two nurses spend a day a week at the two hospitals on Thursdays, to give the children proper medical attention and service as well as to investigate new cases. These nurses care from 8 to 8 patients on trip, both white and colored.

The outline of the above services obtainable shows that the health program in the Glades is advancing. With the coming of the new County County Health Officer, Dr. Austin, further health programs of service will likely be introduced.

Scottish Rite Body To Celebrate Its 25th Anniversary

Announcement was made by officials of Lake Worth Scottish Rite Temple, at the beginning of the spring reunion, that the 25th anniversary of the Consistory would be celebrated in a large way, taking place on the third week end from October 15 to November 1, when aims will be made to have a class of candidates for grade adoption.

Ever since the disastrous hurricanes of 1926 and 1938, when the beautiful building was destroyed, it has been the desire of the lodge to change the Consistory had had to be set down along normal ways, but, presently, the lodge is in the full swing of the fall reunion, that there will be a mortgage burning celebration, as the debt obligation will have been met by that time.

John L. Evans Is New President Of Cattleman Assn.

At a regular meeting of the P. B. Cattleman Association, John L. Evans was elected to serve as President, to succeed Little Don Van Landingham.

The meeting voted unanimously to sponsor calf raising by members of the FFA, 4-H Club and other groups. The membership agreed to furnish as a started, 12 calves to be raised by a committee of the members.

The purpose of this project is to increase interest in cattle breeding and fattening. Discussions were had among the membership about production of feeded steers in the Glades, because of the scarcity of those. Then there were substantial arguments by Little Don and Mrs. Wedgworth in favor of the general average of 200 pounds better for locally produced against those from other parts of the State.

It was agreed that for the present both methods—important and raising locally—would be necessary. Definite convictions favorable to breeding in the Glades were voiced by several. Breeding is practical and profitable in the Glades was the expression of several who have done this for several years.

Ramie Program Is Given Substantial Help In Degumming

Experimenting Takes Step In Major Factor Of Industry

Decorated ramie compared with degumming might be without a modern home laundry machine without water available.

Forestry And Grass Experiments Are Good

Working with Louis T. Neil, and of the State Forest Department, Ben Hill Griffin, a Hardee farmer, is working on a reforestation plan of timber, grazing and game project, each year he planted 100,000 pine seedlings, and by careful inspection, reports that he has not lost a tree. He plans to plant 100,000 trees until 1951, as by so doing he saves pasture, builds up the soil and has a potential money supply coming on for future cutting.

Orange county dairymen have been experimenting with White Dutch clover planting. George Torrey planted 100 acres the past season, and got such excellent and satisfactory results that he is planning on planting 200 acres on former carpet grass pastures this fall.

Fishermen Win A Bout In A Stiff Court Battle

The six commercial fishermen of Moore Haven, who were arrested by Game Wardens at Lake Okechobee, two weeks ago, for alleged illegal seining for fish, were released by the court in Judge Cowley's court on Monday, and were able to score a temporary victory, the fishermen's argument that seining in the large lake of legal battle.

A jury was empaneled, and the counsel for both sides put forth their arguments with much bickering argument. During the progress of the trial, Attorney Bell, for the defendants, filed a motion to dismiss the case, which was accepted and granted. The Commission counsel would be notified to the Circuit Court.

Judge Cowley in making his decision stated, "That there was some reasonableness in the fishermen's argument that seining in the large lake was not reducing the lake's population of fish."

Beef Production In Glades Proven On Substantial Basis Thru Experiments At Station

Prof. Speer Addresses Lions

H. L. Speer, assistant county agent, was the speaker before the Lions' club at its latest meeting, in which he spoke on "Florida's Resources and Geographical Location". He spoke from an Agriculture and Land viewpoint, setting forth our favorable location for winter vegetable growing, favorable temperatures, and productive land. He also cited some of the statistics by Palm Beach county in 1945.

Especially interesting was his description of how the lands of the state had been surveyed out in townships, six miles square, then into sections and their divisions.

Mr. Kidder gave the results of carrying capacity and beef production on various grasses with St. Augustine lead. ## Don't Sell The Glades Short!

In these days following a not-too-good farming season in which we have seen a flood devastate the fall crops, and demands for other crops indifferent, as a whole, it is well to take stock. Dismissing the winter vegetable business, which is only a temporary dismaying, for twenty millions is still substantial anywhere—what have we to expect in the next decade?

There are three agricultural industries, in each of which practical farmers have demonstrated potential values of ten to twenty millions annually to the Glades: beef, cattle feeds and ramie, each complementary to the other.

No more convincing arguments are necessary on beef—both for farmers and for the consumer. The production of 100 to 1500 pounds of beef per acre yearly on adapted grasses, gains of 1.87 pounds daily on grass fed steers with Glades-grown cracked corn supplement, and recovery of an average 200 pounds more weight on 2-year-old Glades grown steers, against imported cattle. These records are substantiated in pastures by local cattleman.

Balanced poultry, dairy and beef cattle feed is a proven natural for the Glades. The production of 100 to 1500 pounds of beef per acre yearly on adapted grasses, gains of 1.87 pounds daily on grass fed steers with Glades-grown cracked corn supplement, and recovery of an average 200 pounds more weight on 2-year-old Glades grown steers, against imported cattle. These records are substantiated in pastures by local cattleman.

Ramie—the cloth of the Pharaohs, some have called it—has benefited from American ingenuity and inventiveness; Glades farmers have taken advantage of Nature in growing ramie of a quality and quantity unsurpassed. Textiles—like linen—are twice as easy produced as economically as anywhere in the U. S., together with unused vegetables; all these are beckoning to the farmer who is normally can depend on harvests only half as long as in the Glades area.

With decortinating and degumming reaching a stage of practical economical mass production, and the Glades unexcelled in quality ramie production, ramie presents a fine opportunity for capital investment, labor pay rolls, taxes, and growth to the Glades.

No, don't let winter vegetables in the Glades get you down—their plenty of competition from Texas, Tennessee and Georgia is greater than our present "greatest winter vegetable production of the world".

What promises in the Glades in the next decade? An agro-industrial empire with $100,000,000 annual production value!

Hundreds Of Visitors Join Local Farmers In Informative Field Day

Rarely do "field days" draw the crowds, nor do they cover a subject so thoroughly and interestingly as did the one held at the Experiment Station, Thursday afternoon, when more than 200 persons from Southeast Florida listened, took copious notes and devoted themselves to absorbing information on Glades beef production, both current and the immediate future.

PRODUCTIVE AGRICULTURE

One reason for the economic strength of the United States is the efficiency of the American farmer. Th high production of American agriculture means that a steadily increasing proportion of the population has been able to devote its thought and energies to other pursuits.

Scientific, mechanized farming has made far greater strides here than in any other major country. American farmers represent only 2 1/2 per cent of all the farmers of the world yet they produce about 20 per cent of the world's food supply. There are various reasons for that achievement, and agricultural machinery is one of the most important. Tasks that, abroad, are slowly and laboriously done by hand are swiftly and economically accomplished by machinery here.

This illustrates, in turn, the close relationship between agriculture and industry. America produces 60 per cent of the world's steel—and it is steel which has made possible the mechanization of agriculture. The first steel plow was produced 110 years ago, and ever since progress in steel and in farm production has gone hand in hand.

The end result is a higher standard of living for all Americans—a more prosperous agriculture—an industrial wage scale unequalled anywhere else—a stronger, richer nation.

Waste Products Can Be Utilized For Big Profit

Agricultural and industrial waste products in Florida can be used to greater economic advantage to add materially to the solution of the state's needs for fertilizers and animal feeds, the research and industrial division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce stated yesterday in its weekly business review.

"Each year some 50 to 55 million pounds of truck crops are abandoned in Florida fields," such a practice is a waste of about because of damage from weather conditions or a drop in fresh produce prices below production costs. These crops are grown under the grower turns his crops under.

A LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF THE LAKE OKEECHOBEE SECTION

During Ed Wilson's short stay in Belle Glade as manager of Lindsley's Lumber Yard, he made an outstanding record. So good was this record that he has been promoted to the management of Lindsley's West Palm Beach Yard.

The West Palm Beach Yard is one of our largest and offers opportunities available only in larger cities. We feel that you'll be glad that we have recognized Mr. Wilson's ability and have given him this promotion.

To the vacant management in Belle Glade, we have promoted Charles Stephenson. We are confident of Mr. Stephenson's ability to give you the same friendly attention you've always found at Lindsley's.

The folks of the Lake Region have been kind to us and we intend to keep our Belle Glade Yard operating in such a way that we show and prove our appreciation of your kindness.

Very truly yours,

ONE STRIKE
and he's OUT--Forever!

It was a game of "one-o-cat" on a city street and Mickie was at bat. . . . The driver of an oncoming car saw the play. . . . sounded his horn and was driving cautiously through. One last pitch. . . . the crack of a well-hit ball. . . . and Mickie ran. . . . It wasn't the driver's fault, but Mickie was OUT... forever!

Children playing in the streets of the Nation's cities and towns added 3,296 to the death toll charged against motor traffic accidents last year. Even the death of two little children is two too many young lives to be snuffed out that way. 3,296 is tragic!

The schools of Florida are continually teaching traffic safety and warning against the dangers of the highways. Parents should emphasize it in the home. Drivers should exert extra precaution in passing schools or going through designated play areas.

Our children's lives are precious. Do your part to prevent the youngsters being struck down — and OUT!
